

Tweed Shire Council wishes to acknowledge the Ngandowal and Minyungbal speaking people of the Bundjalung Country, in particular the Goodjinburra, Tul-gi-gin and Moorung – Moobah clans, as being the traditional owners and custodians of the land and waters within the Tweed Shire boundaries. Council also acknowledges and respects the Tweed Aboriginal community's right to speak for its Country and to care for its traditional Country in accordance with its lore, customs and traditions.

The splash-tastic news we've all been waiting for!! The 50 m outdoor pool at Murwillumbah's Tweed Regional Aquatic Centre has now reopened.

Murwillumbah 50 m pool is now open

We're finally glad to be sharing some good news about the Murwillumbah pool. The 50 m outdoor pool at the Murwillumbah centre has now re-opened, much to the delight of many who have been eagerly awaiting a swim to cool off in the hot weather.

The team at the Tweed Regional Aquatic Centre look forward to welcoming the community back for a swim, slide and splash.

Everything is now operational including the children's leisure pool, the giant hill water slide, the indoor pools and the Starting Block Café. The diving boards are the only exception, which are currently unavailable due to needing to be resurfaced.

Facilities at TRAC's Kingscliff Centre and Tweed Heads South Centre are also operating as per usual.

Thanks to everyone in the community for their patience and understanding while these repairs have been completed.

For more information, including opening hours and entry fees visit TRAC's website at tract.tweed.nsw.gov.au

Keep up with Clarrie Hall Dam raising EIS

Now is the time for the community to talk to the environmental impact assessment (EIS) team and make Council aware of any issues or questions about the proposed raising of Clarrie Hall Dam.

Next month, all community members are invited to come along to information sessions at Uki and Murwillumbah at any time during the hours indicated below. Team members will be on hand to provide information and answer questions.

The Uki session will be held on Tuesday 6 February from 4 to 6:30 pm in the Holy Trinity Anglican Church at 1473 Kyogle Road.

The Murwillumbah session will be held on Wednesday

7 February from 12 noon to 2 pm in the CWA Hall at 20 Queen Street.

A community update about the environmental impact statement (EIS) into raising the dam was recently distributed to communities surrounding the dam and a copy is available at yoursaytweed.com.au/raisingclarriehall-eis

Online are also answers to frequently asked questions and documents about the proposal and the need to secure sustainable water sources for the long term.

Community members can also ask questions online and register to receive future communication including notices on when the EIS is on exhibition.

Only weeks left to claim time capsule contents

Did you or your family contribute to a time capsule buried beneath Murwillumbah Library 50 years ago? We want to reconnect you with your items – but you only have a few weeks left to claim them.

Residents have until Friday 23 February to claim identifiable contents found in a time capsule buried in 1973, at the start of construction of the Murwillumbah Civic and Cultural Centre.

At the time, capsules were placed beneath the Murwillumbah Library: one was placed by Tweed Shire Council, another by the then operational Murwillumbah branch of Apex Australia, on behalf of the community, which held letters from residents to their descendants.

Sadly, much of the contents of the capsule buried by Apex was damaged by the elements over the years – and due to the risk to public safety, the capsule was opened in a controlled environment.

Although the damage caused most of the contents to become unidentifiable, we still want to connect people with the items we can salvage.

For more information and to register a claim for contents, visit yoursaytweed.com.au/time-capsule before Friday 23 February.

Ready to collect as many cane toads as you can?

Hop, leap and jump online to register for the next community cane toad bust in the Tweed!

The second week-long toad busting challenge is currently underway this week until Sunday 21 January wherever you are across the Tweed. It's not too late to join! The race is on to see which Tweed locals can win the title of Toad Busting Champion by removing the most cane toads from their area.

Find out everything you need to know about toad busting and how to enter this fun competition at tweed.nsw.gov.au/cane-toads. Prizes will be drawn on Monday 22 January 2024.

If you can't get involved in this one, make sure you register for the upcoming events including a cane toad information night in Murwillumbah on 7 February and a community cane toad bust in Murwillumbah on 21 February. Register now at tweed.nsw.gov.au/cane-toads

Save water, save money

In brief ...

Water restrictions lifted for Tyalgum

Heavy rainfall has replenished the Tweed's water supplies, prompting Council to lift water restrictions for Tyalgum and relax the need for the rest of the Shire to urgently save water.

Level 2 restrictions came into force for Tyalgum on 14 December 2023 when the amount of water in the village's weir pool dropped to a critical level.

Here we go again: New Year rainfall

With officially 584 millimetres of rain recorded in the hinterland this year (Brays Creek, up until 9 am Tuesday) Council is busy assessing the impact of 2024's relentless rain and flooding.

Flood restoration and geotechnical crews have investigated more than 80 new damages to roads and are also assessing any damage to current flood restoration works including at Tyalgum, Kyogle and Commissioners Creek Roads, and Mount Warning Road and bridge.

Flood Unit Coordinator Charlotte Neilson said while the New Year's rainfall event wasn't nearly as intense nor destructive as the 2022 Floods, it's still left more than $1 m in damages.

"We're currently collating all new damages to our roads, public assets, and restoration projects, particularly west of Murwillumbah.

"Unfortunately, this process may complicate the delivery of existing restoration works as new priorities emerge and different funding models may be required.

"We thank the public for their support as we complete this requirement, on top of ongoing restoration works," Ms Neilson said.

Council is working with others to prepare for, mitigate and build resilience to natural disasters.

Weirs clear of algae

Council has lifted its blue-green algae alerts for the Tweed River at the Bray Park Weir and the Upper Oxley River upstream of the Tyalgum Weir after testing by the NATA-accredited Tweed Laboratory Centre did not detect algae in the waterways.

All restrictions on recreational activities, eating fish and watering livestock from those rivers have been removed.

The green alert for Clarrie Hall Dam remains, with Council advising against recreational activities and eating fish caught in the dam.

Scientists from the Tweed Laboratory Centre will continue to test untreated river water at both weirs and if algae is detected again, Council will adjust its water treatment processes as required to ensure the Tweed's tap water remains safe to drink and bathe in.

Have your say on walking and cycling

The draft Tweed Pedestrian and Bike Plan is now open for public exhibition until Sunday 11 February 2024.

Share your thoughts by taking Council's brief survey and join our interactive online workshops to dive deeper into the plan's details. If your suburb is not listed, please select the closest locality. All sessions are in the evening, from 6 to 7 pm:

- Western areas (Murwillumbah, Terranora, Tumbulgun, Uki, Tyalgum, Burringbar) – Thursday 18 January 2024
- Coastal areas (Chinderah, Fingal Head, Kingscliff, Casuarina, Bogangar, Pottsville) – Tuesday 23 January 2024
- Northern areas (Tweed Heads, Tweed Heads South, Tweed Heads West, Banora Point, Bilambil Heights) – Wednesday 24 January 2024

Proposed re-classification of land

57 Greenway Drive, Tweed Heads South, Lot 128 in DP817783 is a Council-owned land parcel, currently classified as Operational Land. The lot is outlined in the location diagram.

Council proposes to re-classify a portion of the land as community land in accordance with the provisions of section 31(2) of the Local Government Act 1993. The lot contains Council stormwater infrastructure. The part of the parcel that contains stormwater infrastructure will remain as 'operational' land (72%, identified in pink), and the remaining part of the parcel of the parcel intended to be reclassified from 'operational' to 'community' land (28%, identified in orange).

The Tweed's favourite trees are revealed

Late last year, Council's Favourite Tree of the Tweed competition invited residents to submit photos of their favourite urban trees, with 2 prizes awarded to the photos of the individual tree and tree-lined street that received the most votes.

The standout winner of the Favourite Trees of the Tweed was the impressive pandanus tree at Kingscliff. The entry was submitted by Conal H. on behalf of his kids Freddy and Essie and titled 'Dome Tent'. It received 67 votes, with people captured by the gorgeous, green leafy tree and the description 'makes a great cubby'.

Judges deemed Jonny C.'s entry 'When 2 Become 1' as the most popular entry in the tree-lined street category, as it highlighted a location where several trees alongside the road provide shade, beautiful amenity value and habitat for wildlife, as well as connection to play and recreation areas.

Both entries won a gift voucher to purchase native trees from Kingscliff Nursery, 6 bags of compost produced by Soilco from Tweed's Organics Processing Facility and a gardening maintenance kit.

See all the photos submitted including the winning pics and find out more about Council's Cool Towns – Tweed Shire Urban Forest Program at yoursaytweed.com.au/cool-towns

Multi-level carpark at TRAC currently closed in Murwillumbah

The multi-level carpark adjacent to the Council offices at Murwillumbah is currently closed to allow a specialist cleaning crew to remove soot and fire residue, following a vehicle fire in December.

All 3 levels of the car park are closed until further notice while these works are undertaken. An environmental perimeter has been set up around the site to capture run-off from the cleaning process. Please avoid parking near the carpark during the cleaning period.

Once the cleaning is completed, a final structural assessment will be undertaken to determine the repair process and a partial reopening is likely when the cleaning
